

Common Safety Training Program

Supervisor's course

Duration

1 day

The Common Safety Training Program is an initiative of the APPEA Safety Leadership Forum in response to concerns about safety standards of new starts to the oil and gas industry. It is a program specifically designed to address identified industry safety behavioral requirements and includes 6 key areas:

- The Safety Case and Safety Management Systems
- Work Under an Issued Permit
- Identify Hazards and Risks
- Contribute to Safe Work Practices
- Control Minor Incidents
- Respond to an Emergency

The Common Safety Training Program is a 2 part process and requires new start trainees to demonstrate specific knowledge and skills from these 6 key areas to gain endorsement, firstly in the training context and secondly in the workplace. Once endorsed by both the training organisation and the work site, trainees are issued with the Common Safety Training Card, a requirement for employment on an oil and gas facility.

Description

The Supervisors Course is designed to assist supervisors in their role of managing the process of observing and recording trainees' demonstration of safe behaviors in the workplace in order to provide site endorsement.

It provides supervisors with key understandings of the behaviour standards that are expected of trainees, and assists supervisors to put into formal constructs their existing skills and knowledge in making and recording judgments of trainees' safe work behaviours.

Content

This course includes the following:

- Rationale for Common Safety Training Program
- The Common Safety Training Program process
- The roles and responsibilities of the supervisor
- Issues of workplace supervision
- Common Safety Training Program as a safety culture tool
- Managing and collecting workplace evidence
 - Who collects the evidence
 - Partial versus holistic evidence
 - Evidence verification
- Practical – Using tools and making observations

Certification

On successful completion attendees will be issued with a Certificate of Attendance.

Contact Details

For further information or to make a booking please call our Customer Service Team on (08) 9417 6900.